VOL. VIII, No. 2, January-February 1961

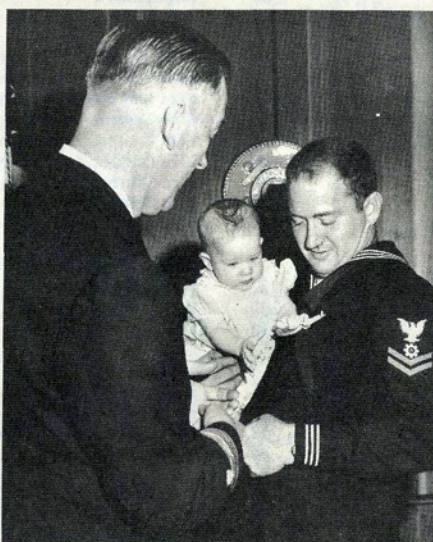

SPAR Warrant Promoted to W-2

Elizabeth F. Splaine, the only SPAR Warrant Officer, put on the broad stripe of a Commissioned Warrant, W-2, on 1 December this year.

CHSCLK Splaine enlisted in the Coast Guard in May 1943, and after completing her "boot" training, reported to the Personnel Procurement Division at Headquarters. In this assignment she advanced through the Yeoman rating, and was discharged at the end of World War II as a Chief Yeoman.

When the Reserve program was again opened for enlistment of women she was the first SPAR to re-enlist in the 1st District, on 20 April 1950. She joined the Boston Volunteer Unit, then in November, with the commissioning of ORTUPS 01-542, the first Coast Guard Organized Reserve Unit in the country, she was assigned to that unit. She remained with the unit until June 1952, when her work took her to Washington. At that time she transferred her training activities to Inter-service, meeting with VP Squadron 662, at NARTU, Anacostia, D. C.

In July 1953, CHSCLK Splaine returned to active duty at Headquarters, this time in the Training Section of the Reserve Division. Shortly after her promotion to W-1 she was re-assigned as Administrative Assistant to the Chief of the Reserve Division, her current assignment.

Almost as proud as her father was the young daughter of Coast Guard Reservist George B. Webster, engineman second, as he received the Coast Guard Silver Lifesaving Medal for the rescue of two crewmen of the disabled fishing vessel Aquarius off Mustang Island, Tex., Nov. 3-4, 1958. Webster, a resident of Houston, Tex., received his decoration from Rear Adm. Carl B. Olsen, Commander, 8th Coast Guard District.

W-1 Age Limit Removed

Beginning in 1961 W-1 applicants need not consider age, since that requirement has been removed. Amendment No. 1 to the Administrative Manual for Coast Guard Reserve (CG 296) will incorporate the requirements and procedures for appointment as warrant officer.

Instructor-Administrator Billets Available

A number of enlisted billets as instructor-administrator are still open at Yorktown and Jacksonville. All officer billets have been filled, but petty officers are needed in the following areas:

Yorktown

Dangerous Cargo
Port Security
Engineman
ASW-CIC
Gun Crew
Medical
Pay
Public Information

Jacksonville

Port Security Instruction
Practical Factors Examiner
Gun Crew
Pay
Medical

If you can be available for at least 30 days and would like to be considered for one of these openings, apply immediately. Applications, in letter form, should be submitted to the Commandant (PR) via your unit commanding officer and district commander and should include the dates you will be available, the billet for which you are applying, and a summary of your qualifications.

Aside from removal of the age maximum, the requirements are the same as in Reserve Instruction No. 19-58.

Latest Compilation of Enlisted Correspondence Courses

Listed below you will find the correspondence courses available to enlisted personnel from the Coast Guard Institute and the Naval Correspondence Course Center. Applications for Coast Guard courses should be submitted on Form CG-100A to the Director, Coast Guard Institute, Groton, Conn; and for Navy courses on Form NAVPERS 580 to the U. S. Naval Correspondence Course Center, Scotia, N. Y. In either case, applications should be forwarded via the appropriate chain of command.

General Information on correspondence courses, such as granting of retirement point credit and the proper use of courses, will be found in Reserve Instruction No. 15-59. Information on advancement for reservists who are not members of units should be requested from the District Director of Reserve.

Direct Commission Officer Commands Reserve Unit

A former Marine combat officer has the distinction of being the only direct-commissioned officer in the First District who commands a Reserve training unit. Walter A. Sonnenberg was commissioned a lieutenant commander in 1958 and in October of this year he relieved LCDR C. A. IZZO as commanding officer of ORTUPS 01-483, Lawrence, Massachusetts. After Mr. Sonnenberg received his commission, he served in ORTUPS 01-439, Manchester, New Hampshire, for approximately twelve months, and as executive officer of the Lawrence unit since 7 January 1960. LCDR SONNENBERG's command is a large port security unit with an authorized complement of 9 officers and 84 men.

LCDR SONNENBERG enlisted in the Marine Corps on 3 July 1942 and the following year, as a private first class, he was selected for officer training and commissioned a second lieutenant. During four years of service, Mr. Sonnenberg received the Bronze Star and two Presidential Unit Citations and made three assault landings at Tinian, Saipan and Iwo Jima. He was discharged as a first lieutenant in April 1946, reenlisted in 1948 and was called to active duty again during the Korean conflict.

Mr. Sonnenberg is at present employed by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as assistant accounting officer.

Uniform Maintenance Allowance Not to be Claimed Before End of Anniversary Year

Officers applying for uniform maintenance allowance are reminded that Headquarters, in determining eligibility for this allowance, must use the point card for the anniversary year in which the fourth uniform year ends. Therefore, claims for this allowance should not be submitted until the end of that anniversary year.

Example: An officer, whose anniversary year commences on 4 August, was entitled to and paid a uniform maintenance allowance on 10 October 1956. He normally would be entitled to a subsequent uniform maintenance allowance on 10 October 1960. Since entitlement depends on completion of satisfactory anniver-

How to Avoid Broaching On the Paperwork Beach

(Borrowed from 4ND Reserve News)

As time marches on and technocracy becomes more rampant, one naturally wonders at the ultimate fate of our present-day calendar. No changes have been made since President Roosevelt changed the Turkey Day. Vanguard gets a day younger each time it circles the earth. The paperwork problem increases with each report on the number of spare tubes on board for your dandy little 1911 Marconi spark set. Reproduced below is a calendar especially designed to bring peace and comfort to harried Reserve Directors and unit CO's, XO's and Training Officers.

Advantages of the new calendar are:

1. It is strictly FORWARD LOOKING.

2. Every job is in a rush. Everyone wants his work completed yesterday. With this calendar anyone can request a report on the 7th and have it finished on the 3rd.

3. Most unexpected jobs and time-consuming interruptions occur on Friday--so there are two Fridays in each week.

4. There are seven extra days at the end of the month for those end-of-the-month deadlines and submission of the 3712's.

5. There are no "first of the months," no "tenths" or "twenty-fifths," thereby eliminating submission dates for all reports.

6. There are extra Saturdays and Sundays, necessarily eliminating Mondays (a truly dispensable day); because it is so close to Monday, Tuesday also is eliminated--allowing more time for rest, recreation, weekend cruises, investigations and casualty assistance calls.

CALENDAR

sary years, as well as satisfactory uniform years, determination of his eligibility can not be made until receipt of his Point Card for anniversary year ending 3 August 1961. His claim for uniform maintenance allowance, therefore, should be submitted subsequent to 3 August 1961.

Reserve Officers Selected For Naval War College

Four reserve officers have been selected to attend the May 1961 courses at the Naval War College, Newport, R. I.

CDR Joseph V. Wielert of Long Island City, N. Y., an inspector-instructor in the Third District, and CDR Italo W. Ricciuti of New Orleans, La., a member of the New Orleans VTU, will represent the Coast Guard at the Senior Reserve Officers Course convening on 28 May.

The Reserve Officers' Command and Staff Course convening on 6 May will be attended by LCDR Martin L. Barnes, commanding officer of ORTUPS 12-535, San Francisco, Calif., and LCDR Howard L. Berlyn of Salem, Mass., a member of the NRA Squadron VP-911, So. Weymouth, and an instructor at NROS, Salem.

In December, 14th District reservists boarded the Coast Guard Cutter MATAGORDA for a week-end cruise to the island of Kauai, Hawaii. During the cruise, officers and men were afforded the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the operation of the cutter by participating in piloting, flag signaling, emergency steering, and sound power telephone drills. While underway, a 50-minute battle problem was conducted for the benefit of the reservists.

POSTURE—The straighter you stand the better you look. Hold that waistline in. Shoulders back!

SHOES—Keep them in good condition top and bottom. Solid soles and heels prevent tired feet. Shine!

Additional Officer Correspondence Courses

In addition to the officer correspondence courses offered by the Naval Correspondence Course Center, several other activities offer courses in professional subjects. These activities, and the courses offered, are listed below.

U. S. NAVAL INTELLIGENCE SCHOOL

Reserve officers on active or inactive duty are eligible to enroll in the following course, provided they can fulfill the requirements for proper stowage of classified material.

Application should be made in letter form to Director, U. S. Naval Intelligence School, U. S. Naval Receiving Station, Washington 25, D. C. (Attn: Code 22). Applications must contain a statement of proper stowage, stating that stowage for "Confidential - Modified Handling Authorized" is available and will be utilized in accordance with U. S. Naval Security Manual for Classified Information.

NAVY DOUBLE TALK

You'll be sorry is the greeting
That all sailors call when meeting
All new boots when first they enter
Any naval training center

If you've always lived ashore
These three words not many more,
Will be all you'll understand
I guess English here is banned.

So forget your mother tongue
These are strangers you're among
Nothing like your home abode
All the talking here's in code.

What was once a bed is now a sack
It's bow and stern not front and back
Those are bulkheads never walls
And passageways instead of halls.

That's the deck and not the floor
Those flags are used for semaphore
Not hurry up, but on the double
Fouled up means you're in trouble.

Port and Starboard, fore and aft
Ballast cargo, tonnage, draft,
Sickbay, galley, bridge and brig,
Dinghy, dory, punt and gig.

"This'll shake your teeth loose" says pert Betty Bzdusek to Reservist Gerald A. Miszewski, DC3, as she demonstrates a judo throw during a recent exhibition for members of ORTUPS 09-668, Milwaukee.

Betty weighs in at a trim 129 pounds while Miszewski carries 225. But Betty has an advantage as she is a member of the Milwaukee police department judo team.

Amidship, topside, go below
And plenty more you'll never know.
If you lose your way, don't show it,
You can be there and never know it.

Though your nomenclature's faulty
Cheer up boys, you'll soon be salty.
I know it sounds like Greek,
Who me? Oh, I've been here a week.
